External Hood

External Hood

This is an easy to install inlet hood that replaces the conventional wooden hoods. The hood prevents rain and other airborne elements from entering the house and is more durable.

Due to the internal surface being slightly textured (pinseal) the hood is easy clean and does not reflect the light as much as some other products and is therefore more suited to broiler applications.

The external hood is ideally suited to inlets such as Rea-dan, TPI, SCOV etc. Standard colour black.

It is UV stable therefore more weather proof and exceedingly quick to fix using 4 self drilling screws.

The inlet has a wide flange for easy fixing and an added strengthening rib around the hood to prevent vibration and flexing.
